

Current Residents:

Sherif Ahmed, PharmD

Pharmacy School: University of Maryland Eastern Shore

Hometown: Laurel, MD

Research: Vancomycin AUC/MIC and corresponding troughs in a community hospital

Why TidalHealth: “Having had a prior rotation at TidalHealth Peninsula Regional, I knew the program would provide me with a challenging and supportive environment to help me grow as a clinician. The staff is dedicated and willing to offer me the opportunities to explore the different areas of pharmacy for which I am passionate. The clinical opportunities, how well integrated pharmacy is into the healthcare team, and the enthusiastic staff is what drew me to TidalHealth.”

Urenna Jerry-Alagbaoso, PharmD

Pharmacy School: Temple University

Hometown: Aduja, Nigeria

Research: Evaluating the efficacy of direct oral anticoagulants in obese patients admitted for a stroke or venous thromboembolism in a community hospital

Why TidalHealth: “I chose TidalHealth because every person I met while interviewing was warm and welcoming, and this has remained the same. The culture within the pharmacy department has focused on my individualized growth and learning. All the preceptors are kind and supportive and I have felt so welcomed during my time here. The learning experience has been amazing, and I am thankful I made the right decision.”
